

An Early Christmas Present: Change / Constants / and You

Despite the accelerating rate of change, do you believe there are timeless Absolutes?

Truth, Trust, and Love are Absolute. Together they build the foundation supporting independent thought; giving us the strength to persevere; and providing the inspiration and passion to improve the human condition.

Ego and Fear are also timeless. They block us from the power and happiness Truth, Trust, and Love create.

When Truth, Trust, and Love are constant in our life. There is no air left for Ego and Fear to breathe.

Truth, Trust, and Love empower us to achieve the high awareness necessary to best anticipate and fulfill the needs of others. Our pursuit of Truth, Trust, and Love creates the transparency inspiring and compelling others to protect us, and interact with us in a positive way.

Truth, Trust, and Love are the keys to value creation. The more you allow yourself to reflect on these constants, the more you will understand why they are Absolute.

Ego blocks Truth, Trust, and Love by telling us we can control things that we can't and know things that we don't. This keeps us from seeing and filling the gaps necessary to develop the awareness to know the Truth. Trust cannot exist without Truth. Love cannot exist without Trust.

Fear is the product of not knowing the Truth about ourselves; those we interact with or who have influence over us; or our environment.

Accelerated Intelligence wants you to know some very important Truths so you can develop the awareness needed to Trust and Love; and in turn improve the human condition most effectively.

We - Us - You - Me - Them - Humans act out of either Love or Fear.

Think of Love as high awareness and good.

Think of Fear as low awareness and bad.

Truth creates high awareness and goodness.

Anything less than the Truth is deceptive, manipulative, and exploitive. It is beyond bad. It is Evil because of the division and hate it creates.

For example, the Human Race is the only race. Those who subdivide the Human Race, do so for personal gain, and exhibit the purest form of Evil by positioning humans against each other.

The power of the United States comes from striving to stay focused on, and define itself by protecting the Human Race. Is its History perfect? No. Does it strive towards perfection? Yes.

So how can you best know the Truth? And in turn, develop the high awareness needed to Trust and Love? The answer is really quite simple. Be Curious! Ask why? A lot! And have the patience to help those who are asking why to find the answers.

When you ask why, and do the work to find the answers, you are behaving proactively. Developing knowledge and understanding. Improving your skills and competency. You are making your intentions to improve the human condition highly transparent. You are earning the trust and support of others. You have the capacity to Love and to be Loved.

So what keeps you from asking why, and the power and happiness of Truth, Trust, and Love? Your Ego telling you can control things that you can't and know things that you don't. People / Cultural Messaging repressing your curiosity through deception, manipulation, and exploitation.

When you are not asking why, your behavior is reactive. You are not developing the awareness needed to stay ahead of real-time events. You find yourself struggling to maintain the status quo. You make decisions out of frustration and Fear. Self-preservation becomes your focus instead of improving the human condition. This represses your awareness even more, causing you to fall further behind faster and faster. Reactive behavior leads to a dark place.

So how can you ensure your behavior remains proactive when you are at great risk of being overwhelmed by the ever accelerating rate of change? The answer is learning how to develop and support High Intuitive Function.

Intuitive Function is proactive behavior driving your evolution. It is the unconscious application of creativity and imagination integrating skill, knowledge, and experience in a manner causing you to frequently realize and expand your potential.

All professionals perform intuitively to some degree. The most effective consistently achieve higher intuitive states. This is how they develop the superior awareness needed to consistently outperform by seeing and doing before others. High awareness has pushed their decision-making furthest ahead of real-time events.

Instinctive behavior is 180° away from intuitive function. It is reactive behavior keeping you safe. Instinctive behavior is coded into your DNA. It is the unconscious application of behaviors shared by a species necessary to its survival.

Knowing how to best develop and support High Intuitive Function is the best thing you can do to ensure your relevancy as a professional. The long-term viability of your enterprise / organization. And to protect those whom you care about most.

If you are willing to make an initial investment of 20 hours of your time; then about 15 minutes a day for 90 days to strengthen your curiosity, Accelerated Intelligence will teach you how to best develop and support High Intuitive Function.

You will learn things higher education, professional development, and organizational training could not teach you. You will gain powerful new perspective for what is possible and be overwhelmed with excitement as you realize how achievable it is. You will turn the risks and threats created by the rapidly accelerating rate of change into a significant competitive advantage.

If you are ready to move into a new dimension of possibility and experience happiness on a scale not imagined then this is for you.

Go here to get started <https://acceleratedintelligence.learnupon.com/store>

Use Coupon Code: XMAS2017 to save $150

After you purchase in your name please email r.burchett@theotherai.com and provide the name and email of individual you are gifting the training to; and the date you would like them activated.